It has always seemed to us that the Andalusian white villages have that charm that the peoples of the South have, their friendly people, those alleys full of flowers on the balconies in spring, those terraces full of people taking advantage of every moment, that life free of rush and tension of the big cities, in short, that kind of life that only the towns offer.

This idea has been planned for a plot in Tesorillo, a town framed between the Hozgarganta and Guadiaro rivers. An orchard of Andalusian nature.

The current manor house maintains its elegant design and structure, but the passage of time has taken its toll on the building.

Maintaining that same structure, we have carried out, together with the Fuga y Fusión Interior Design studio, the creation of this exciting concept. Where modern comfort and details are found together with the classic construction.

Large open living room with different environments, bright kitchen open to the terrace with elegant windows.

Andalusian patio with a four-pipe count, sounding the atmosphere next to the orange blossom of the Tesorillo emblem.

The upper floor is made up of three large bedrooms, the main one with a fireplace and an en-suite bathroom.

Gabled roof with centuries-old tiles.

It is also located at the gates of natural parks such as the Alcornocales Natural Park, and the Serranía de Ronda.

At the same time, its short distance to the Mediterranean, allows it to be in good connection with the airports of Gibraltar at 25min and Malaga at 1h.

Port of Algeciras at 30min.

Today we value the breadth of space, the flavor of the towns and their natural rhythm of life. The comfort of the current convenience while preserving the essence and solidity.

Plot with project in rural town of Andalusia.
